Third Grade Students of Saint Michael School Reach Out To Local Children

North Andover, MA – December 13, 2010 – The third grade students of Saint Michael School are giving a personal gift to the children of the Si, Se Puede (Yes, It Is Possible) program in Lawrence, MA. Each of the Saint Michael School third grade students will select a gift based on input from the Si, Se Puede children, wrap it and present it to the school so the children of Si, Se Puede will have something to open. Saint Michael School selected the Si, Se Puede program because of their commitment to enhancing educational and community opportunities for children in need.

As part of their teaching philosophy, Saint Michael School encourages students to give to others. “Allowing children of the third grade age group to select a gift for another child their own age enforces the message that there are children and families that are less fortunate and need assistance. It allows children to learn at an early age that even one small gesture can have a huge impact on others in their own community,” added Susan Gosselin, Saint Michael School Principal.
